

Liens Placed On Real Estate By Connecticut Department Of Social Services (DSS)

Categories : Income Assistance, Legal and Protective Services

When DSS places a lien on a client's home, it means, in most cases, that the department will recover money when the client dies. If the individual is survived by a spouse or child under 21, the repayment would be delayed until the spouse dies and the child turns 21. It does not mean that the client will be forced to sell their home before they choose to. The money recovered is limited to the amount that the department issued to the client or on the client's behalf. One instance where the state could seek repayment from a HUSKY client who is still living, is if a person receiving Medicaid services for an injury received in an accident receives a financial settlement due to the accident, the state can look for reimbursement for bills related to the accident.

All Cash Assistance Programs Require a Lien:

- TFA
- State Supplement
- SAGA Cash

These programs are subject to recovery repayment, including having the state place a lien on property or make a claim against any inheritance the individual is to receive, any lottery winnings, or any other windfall of monies.

Some Medicaid Programs Require a Lien:

- Adults in HUSKY A or D who receive long-term care, such as nursing home care or home and community based services. The costs can include related hospital and prescription drug services.
- Adults in HUSKY A aged 55 and older who receive medical services.
- Adults in HUSKY D aged 55 and older who received medical services paid for by the program before Jan. 1, 2014.

Most Medical Assistance Programs Do Not Require a Lien

- Medicaid (Person 55 and older in Husky D who receive medical care after Jan 1, 2014, if the care is not permanent long term care)
- HUSKY B and HUSKY C
- Healthy Start

Food Stamp Assistance Never Requires a Lien.
